

Terms of use and exploitation rights for the Draft Portal of Austrian Standards Institute (ASI)

With the Draft Portal of Austrian Standards Institute you have the opportunity to participate actively in the preparation of Austrian Standards (ÖNORMs).

1. Terms of use

The user commits himself/herself to use all information available from the ASI Draft Portal exclusively for the purpose of examination and comment of draft standards. The user is aware that the draft standards are protected by copyright and declares not to reproduce, to distribute, to make publicly available or to use and exploit these data in any other illicit way.

The registered access may not be transferred to other persons. The user affirms that he/she will not transmit or make available his/her personal access codes to third parties. The Austrian Standards Institute is not liable for possible damages deriving from publication or use of a draft standard.

The Austrian Standards Institute reserves the right to modify or to amend any time the present terms of use.

2. Exploitation rights

On the basis of the Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works, the user transfers the exploitation rights for the immaterial contributions resulting from the comments exclusively to the Austrian Standards Institute.

This transfer is free of charge and includes the following types of exploitation, basically without obligation to mention the name of the user (the person having submitted the comments)

The exploitation rights transferred comprise: the right of reproduction, revision, distribution, adaptation, translation, renting, loan, the deduction of revenues from reproduction and loan, the public advertisement, totally or in part, the transfer of all user licences and the authorization for sub-distribution. The exploitation rights cover all languages and all kinds of exploitation presently known, particularly – but not exclusively – publication of any kind and on any media. However, the transfer of exploitation rights does not restrain the user from exploiting his/her contribution for his/her own purposes, as far as the items listed above are not prejudicially affected.
